Unit 12 Sight Singing Assignment

Rhythm: Double Dotting and Subdivision

Prepare with a partner, both conducting and chanting "Tah." At the repeat, switch parts. Also be prepared to perform it alone, chanting the upper line while clapping the lower line, then on the repeat, clapping the upper line and chanting the lower line.

Rhythm and Melody: Double Dotting, More Difficult Diatonic Leaps

George Frideric Handel, Oboe Concerto HWV 302a, I.

Joseph Haydn, Symphony No. 67 Hob. I:67, II.

Jean-Baptiste Lully, Armide HWV 71, Ouverture

Rhythm and Melody: More Difficult Subdivisions, More Difficult Diatonic Leaps

Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, Lieder ohne Worte Op. 53 No. 19

Johann Sebastian Bach, Brandenburg Concerto No. 5, II.

Johann Sebastian Bach, Wachet auf, ruft uns die Stimme BWV 140, II.

Catch: Henry Harington (1727-1816), "O, That I Had Wings Like a Dove!"

Instructions: three singers (or groups of singers) with different starting points. Group 1: start at measure 1, sing straight through. Group 2: start at measure 11, sing to the end, go without a break to measure 1 and sing through measure 10. Group 3: start at measure 21, sing to the end, go without a break to measure 1 and sing through measure 20.

